8th International Symposium on Inherited Diseases of the Pancreas

Scientific Programme - Sunday, June 8th, 2014

Organizing committee:
Michael Wilschanski, Hadassah, Jerusalem
Markus M. Lerch, University Medicine, Greifswald
David C. Whitcomb, University of Pittsburgh

9:00 Opening of the Meeting

9:00-9:20 Johanna Rommens, Toronto, Canada
25 years of the CFTR discovery

9:20-9:40 Claude Ferec, Brest, France
Compound CFTR and other mutations in children

9:40-10:00 Peter Durie, Toronto, Canada
Genotype, phenotype and functional correlations of CFTR mutations

10:00-10:20 Jessica LaRusch, Pittsburgh, USA
The role of CFTR Mutations in pancreatitis

10:20-10:50 Michael Wilschanski, Jerusalem, Israel
Therapeutic approaches to correct CFTR dysfunction

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

11:30-11:50 Aliye Uc, Iowa City, USA
Genetic changes in children with pancreatitis

11:50-12:10 F. Ulrich Weiss, Greifswald, Germany
Genetic predispositions in acute pancreatitis

12:10-12:30 William Greenhalf, Liverpool, UK
SPINK1 mutations and haplotype variations in pancreatitis

12:30-14:00 Lunch break

14:00-14:20 David C. Whitcomb, Pittsburgh, USA
Complex genetics in pancreatic disorders

14:20-14:40 Karianne Fjeld, Anders Molven, Bergen, Norway
Common predispositions for diabetes and pancreatitis

14:40-15:00 Inna Belfer, Pittsburgh, USA
The genetics of pancreatic pain

15:00-15:10 abstract presentation I
15:10-15:20 abstract presentation II
15:20-15:30 abstract presentation III

15:30-16:00 coffee break
16:00-16:20  Miklos Sahin-Toth, Boston, USA
The unfolded protein response in pancreatic diseases

16:20-16:40  Jonas Rosendahl, Leipzig, Germany
Novel protease mutations in pancreatitis

16:40-17:00  Julia Mayerle, Greifswald, Germany
Current guidelines for genetic disorders of the pancreas

17:00-17:20  Revital Kariv, Tel Aviv, Israel
Genetic predispositions for pancreatic malignancies

17:20-17:40  Francisco Real, Madrid, Spain
Molecular genetics of pancreatic cancer

17:00  Closing remarks

18:00  Western Wall Tunnel Tour

20:00  Symposium Dinner, Lifetime Achievement Award
